Abstract: this article describes the scientific research about the role of our ancestors in the process of implementing personality development in education and forming patriotic education in them.

Key words: Education , homeland , ancestors.

Independence started a period of great changes in the history of our country, made millions of people believe in their own power, opened the way for people's initiative. Independence established a social order that allowed the realization of creative thoughts and feelings hidden in man. Because of independence, we took our destiny and our army into our own hands. Our ancestors always fought bravely for the freedom and independence of the Motherland. We should pay attention to the social, economic and political situation in Central Asia at the beginning of the 11th century, the intensification of the mutual struggle in Movarounnahr in the last stages of the Mughal tyranny, the mutual struggle between the Chingizids and its consequences, the actions of generals, and the conditions for Amir Temur's arrival in Movarounnahr to the political arena.

It is necessary to emphasize that the Armed Forces of the Republic of Uzbekistan are capable of effectively and reliably protecting the peace and tranquility of our country, and it is necessary to form fast, combat-ready, well-equipped military branches.

The military reforms being carried out in our Armed Forces have placed before us large-scale and extremely responsible tasks. In order to solve them, high intelligence and strength are needed, in our sufficiently large and complex military mechanism, it is necessary to further increase the organization and discipline in all its links, to strengthen individual leadership and improve the leadership of the troops, to raise the combat readiness of units and units to the highest level. must

It is known from historical traditions and experiences that education is always built on the basis of policies, tasks and goals of a particular society and system.

As the great thinker Avloni said, "Education is a matter of life, death, salvation, destruction, happiness, or disaster for us." It is clear from it that a person collects education from life, nature and society. Man came to life, he fights for life and life educates him.

In the 11th century, the founder of Tajik literature, the great scholar Abu Abdullah Rudaki, said:

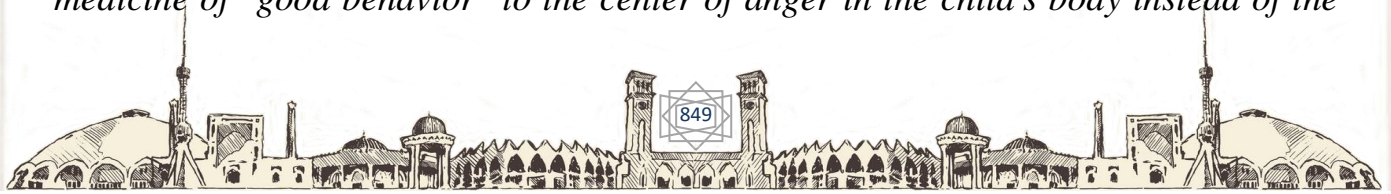

Education, being closely related to education, also has its own laws. Education and training is a single process. But they are not exactly alike. In the entire pedagogical process, which consists of the unity of education and upbringing, first of all, their common goal, education always fulfills educational tasks, and education fulfills the responsible task of knowing life and preparing for it.

The great commander, enlightened scientist Abu Nasr Farabi in his work "Classification of Sciences" "calls Arithmetic, geometry, astronomy and music as educational science". Because young people are educated because of them. These sciences make our youth more intelligent. It will be difficult to master the sciences of "nature" without a good mastery of the so-called educational sciences. He said, "Education is formed only by words and teaching, and education is carried out by practical work and experience."

Setting the goal of educating young people in the spirit of patriotism is based on the demands of society, the spirit of the times, and national characteristics. The purpose of education is to educate a perfect human being who has matured in all aspects. Based on these goals, the military team and each soldier determines the tasks of educational work, determines its content, and commanders choose the forms and methods of training the military, taking into account the working conditions.

The main task of military education is to equip soldiers with knowledge, while in education, it is to acquire the moral qualifications and skills, needs and aspirations of soldiers in accordance with the rules of ethics accepted in military schools and in our society.

Uzbek folk pedagogue, educationist scientist Abdulla Avloni in his works "Turkish Gulistan" and "Ethics" emphasized the role of education in human development and said: "The Lord has created people in their original nature with talents and abilities, good and bad, good and bad, white and black. But to perfect human ability is through education. If a child gets a good upbringing, avoids bad behavior and grows up accustomed to good behavior, he will be acceptable and happy in everyone's eyes. If he grows up without education, his morals are corrupted, he will become an ignorant, ignorant, disgraceful world who will do all sorts of corrupt things and will not listen to advice. Educators are like a doctor, just as a doctor treats a patient's body, so the educator should do a great job by giving the medicine of "good behavior" to the center of anger in the child's body instead of the medicine of "purity". Because we are forced to correct our behavior by commandment, but the social claw for good behavior is education. "Education has a great influence on the building of our morals."

In Islamic Sharia, it is said that it is obligatory for fathers to educate their children well, and it is sufficient to educate the orphaned children of their nation.

Since the beginning of mankind, people have been engaged in raising children in one form or another. At that time, this process may have been sometimes conscious and sometimes unconscious. As a result of the passage of time, the complexity of life and living, they acquired a deeper and broader meaning.

A person can be educated in two ways.

1. By the direct influence of others, i.e. the teaching of others, as well as by reading the fics, teachings and works of the wise;

2. A person can draw appropriate conclusions from his thinking, people's behavior, what he has done and is doing, and he can be educated through the most powerful thinking and means;

The child's growth and upbringing is carried out in the process of his activity. Education to give when you say scientist fusals only to the child education to give they understand . We think it is to understanding different depending on education only children not but adults too attraction what we do need

To sum up, I am not afraid to say that we will achieve our goal only if we pay great attention to the education of the youth while educating the future generation of our society and independent country in the spirit of loyalty to the motherland.
