In today's era of globalization and sharp competition, armed conflicts and confrontations, new threats and risks that are taking place in different parts of the world, including our region, are setting up urgent tasks that cannot be delayed in front of us.

It is in such conditions that the youth of our country is brought up in the spirit of patriotism, including military-patriotism, high spiritual and moral values, deeply instilling in their minds the need to preserve peace and harmony as tears, "the people and the army are one body, one soul!" on the basis of a noble idea, it is required to combine the strength and capabilities of ministries and departments responsible for youth education on the basis of one idea, one goal. This is of course a natural state. Because one of the mechanisms of the state is the army, which is considered multilateral, determines its fate, internal stability, its place and role in the present time.

In the conditions of changes in the military Sox, the Armed Forces are gaining a new quality. With structural changes in our army, the defense doctrine is strictly focused on the direction of Defense, the formation of qualitative and mental priorities.

In this regard, today a clear work, a high sense of patriotism, personal responsibility in the conscientious performance of the military duty are required from an Uzbek warrior. The share of a soldier in ensuring the defense power of the country is appreciated by increasing combat efficiency, forming professional skills, improving discipline and order.

The high and responsible tasks of the Armed Forces of the Republic can be carried out by a healthy, physically strong and resilient person, mentally formed, with high spiritual and combat qualities, ready to fulfill his patriotic and civil duty on the path of the homelands.

The effective passage of a soldier's term military service, the formation of his physical, mental and spiritual qualities, the qualitative degradation of the training of Officer Personnel, soldiers and sergeants in the conditions of the army depend on the effectiveness of the training of young people of the age of many grades from the draft to the draft.

Pre-prescription primary preparedness science is organized and conducted in lyceums and vocational colleges according to the laws of the Republic of Uzbekistan "on defense", "on general military duty and military service" and is a component of the system of training young people for military service in the Armed Forces of the Republic of Uzbekistan.

During the study of primary preparedness science before the call, the student youth master the provisions of the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan on the defense of the country and its protection from military aggression.

They study the laws of the Republic of Uzbekistan "on defense", "on general military duty and military service", laws on administrative, disciplinary and criminal liability of military personnel, types of armed forces, their duties.

In addition, they learn the methodology for organizing and conducting initial training and military-patriotic education until the call. In the educational process, they master the most advanced and effective methods of organizing and conducting training in each department of the CHQBT program in educational institutions.

The president of the Republic of Uzbekistan and khukumati are constantly paying great attention to the work of preparing young people for military service in the ranks of the Armed Forces. In the program for training adolescents of the pre-prescription and Convocation age for khaki military service in the armed forces, all government agencies, organizations and officials directly involved in the work of preparing young people for the protection of the Motherland should radically change the work of preparing young people for the protection of the motherland, take measures to improve its quality, provide the armed forces with In these works, it is necessary to widely use the martial traditions of our people, its values and achievements.

These responsible tasks are the responsibility of the whole society, first of all the pedagogical team of educational institutions and, first of all, the head of initial training until the call.

Purpose of teaching science – based on the requirements of the specialty for students in the study of Science, the organization of pre-call primary preparation of the Republic of Uzbekistan deeply teaches the requirements and content of management documents and the requirements of orders and instructions of the Ministry of Science and innovations of Higher Education of the Republic of Uzbekistan, the Ministry of school and preschool education and the Ministry of, in addition to providing knowledge and practical skills in pre-call initial training, as an outstanding educator, the student consists in training educators who can organize and conduct training in sufficient pedagogical skills with young people.

The task of science is to form and develop the moral and political and military pedagogical qualities necessary in students, as well as to educate them with a high pedagogical culture. In teaching students, the main focus is on the method of obtaining independent knowledge, as well as the search for new information from “Internet” networks and literature on the specialty, thereby improving their professional and pedagogical skills and teaching students to be able to apply their knowledge and skills in their independent activities to organize and conduct initial training in educational institutions up to the call.

The subject "Organization of preliminary training before the call and the methodology for its training" will closely help the future leaders of military training to prepare at a high level a worthy young generation ready for the protection of the motherland
